APPROVES PLAN TO CONSOLIDATE ARMY AND NAVY

Would Merge Two Departments Under one Defense Organization.

Washington, Feb. 14.—President Harding is said to have given approval to a plan for reorganization of governmental departments and bureaus under which the war and navy departments would be consolidated in a single portfolio designated as "the department of defense."

The plan, which contemplates a number of other changes in the organization of the executive branch of the government, is understood to have been approved at a conference with Walter F. Brown, ex-officio chairman of the joint congressional committee on reorganization, which was appointed a number of months ago, but has not been able to agree on a program.

The proposals favored by Mr. Harding are said to have been worked out by Mr. Brown in conference with the president, members of the cabinet and some of the committee members and certain unofficial experts. The plan, it is understood, will be submitted to the committee by the president as a basis for consideration in an effort to bring its members together on a program for reorganization.

The Brown plan is described as calling for establishment of a new department of education and public welfare, with supervision over all educational activities of the government, and over all hospitalization facilities, including those of the public health service, army, navy and interior department institutions, and possibly the veterans' bureau.

KILLED BY STONE HURLED BY BLAST

Columbus, Feb. 14.—Dewey R. Hendren, 25, of Newark, O., was killed by a stone hurled from the Scioto river, 1,200 feet away, where a blast of dynamite was set off by the Calahan Construction company, dredging the Scioto river. Struck by a seven-pound rock, Hendren fell to the street and lived only five minutes. His neck was broken. Hendren saw overseas service, was a rubber worker and ball player. Authorities said after an investigation that it would be impossible to fix any criminal responsibility for Hendren's death.

SUSPECT UNDER ARREST.

Howling Blizzard Rages In Dakotas—Ohio Feels Cold Snap

Chicago, Feb. 14.—Driving across the Dakotas, through Minnesota and Wisconsin, a howling blizzard is sweeping today—the "worst blizzard in twenty-five years."

Train traffic was badly hampered. Minneapolis, Minn., reported a temperature of 1 below zero, as did Fond du Lac, Wis., this morning.

The entire Midwest was in the grip of the coldest spell of the winter.

Several Wisconsin cities were reported buried in a heavy snowfall. The lower lake regions, however, were not hit as hard by the cold.

A train with forty passengers aboard was reported marooned in the snow near Marshall, Minn., Colo. Trains on practically every transcontinental railroad were battling huge drifts.

One death resulted from the cold in Chicago, where zero weather prevailed. Mrs. Etta Hardesty, 65, was found dead in a drift of snow near her home.

Even colder weather is predicted for the next 24 hours, weather officials predicting a drop below zero. The cold wave is drifting southwestward.

OHIO IS IN PATH OF STORM.

Toledo, Feb. 14.—Northwestern Ohio is in the grip of a 60 mile blizzard and zero temperature today. One death has already resulted. Andrew Dlotolcak, trucker's helper, was thrown from his truck when it skidded on the icy streets in front of a street car. He fell to the pavement and was instantly killed.

Mrs. Mayme Rya was also instantly killed last night when slippery streets caused a machine driven by Floyd Pope, Haskins, Ohio, business man, to skid, knocking the woman against an electric light pole.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 14.—The temperature dropped twenty-four degrees here in 24 hours. Fourteen above was the coldest this morning.

SAYS DANIEL AND RICHARD ARE ALIVE.

Idaho Falls, Idaho, Feb. 14.—The two bodies found in Lake LaFourche, near Bastrop, La., were placed there by medical students from a New Orleans college, and were not those of Watt Daniel and T. P. Richard, as claimed, according to Dr. Lew Burger of New York, who was spokesman at an open meeting of local chapter of the Ku Klux Klan here. Dr. Burger declared that Daniel and Richard are alive and in New Orleans.

DRAFT EVADERS ARE NOW EXEMPT COURT DECIDES

Government Cannot Punish These Men Under Ruling of Federal Judge

HUNDREDS ARE FREED

Congressional Resolution Swept Aside by Decision of Westenhaver

Cleveland, Feb. 14.—Under a ruling handed down here by Federal Judge D. C. Westenhaver, thousands of men and youths who evaded the selective service law during the world war are exempt from punishment by the government.

The court held that the joint resolution of congress, which the government has relied upon to obviate the statute of limitations in the prosecution of "slackers" and draft evaders, is "merely an expression of legislative opinion."

Judge Westenhaver ruled that only when indictments had been returned or information had been filed before the expiration of three years from the time the alleged offense was committed can the government continue prosecution against draft invaders.

The decision was handed down in the case against Charles Salberg of Canton, who was indicted for failure to register June 5, 1917. Salberg's counsel invoked the statute of limitations, alleging that the government failed to have Salberg indicted until last Dec. 20, although prosecution was barred under this statute after June, 1920.

To controvert this, Assistant District Attorney General J. Pilliod cited the joint resolution of congress, approved last March 8, under which it is declared that no peace proclamation, act or resolution shall be construed as terminating the amenability to prosecution and trial of persons who failed to comply with the provisions of the draft law.

"This is a declaratory and not an enacting resolution," Judge Westenhaver held in dismissing Salberg. "It does not create any new offenses nor modify any existing laws. It may be entitled to respect as an expression of legislative opinion, but one must look to acts, joint resolutions and proclamations comprehended within its descriptive language in order to determine what the effect thereof may be."

WYNN IS ACCUSED IN ALLEGED FRAUD PROBE IN HOUSE

Columbus, Feb. 14.—Two witnesses, testifying before the special committee of the house of representatives which is hearing the Pike county election contest in which Harry L. Foster, Republican, is seeking to unseat Robert S. Wynn, Democrat, as representative from Pike county, said Representative Wynn had paid them $5 each "for their time" in voting absent voters' ballots. One of the witnesses, Henry Harris, living near Richmondale, Ross county, said Representative Wynn also gave him $5 for Mrs. Harris, who also had voted an absent voters' ballot. The other witness who said he had received money was Emerson Harris, son of Henry Harris. Both witnesses said they had later withdrawn their ballots, together with Mrs. Harris' ballot, but that they had not returned the money to Wynn.

ANTI-KLAN AND POLICE BILLS IN

Columbus, Feb. 14.—Another anti-Ku Klux Klan bill was introduced in the house by Representative Harding of Warren county. The bill would make it a felony for any person to appear in public in the hooded regalia of the Klan. Representative Kasch of Summit county introduced a state police bill providing for three troops of 65 men each, to be used in policing the highways and not in labor disputes and to be paid for by a gasoline tax.

STEPS ARE TAKEN TO PREVENT GAS STOVE POISONING

Conference in Columbus Decides to Ask for Legislation on Subject

Columbus, Feb. 14.—Recommendations for state legislation designed to materially reduce the members of fatalities resulting from carbon monoxide gas poisoning, due to improperly ventilated, or otherwise defective gas stoves and other heating devices, are contained in resolutions adopted at a conference here of state health officials, representatives of the federal government, the Ohio State University, gas producing and distributing companies and concerns making stoves and heaters.

The conferences decided to ask for laws providing that the installation of all stoves used for heating rooms or buildings and all hot water heaters shall be fixed, or vented, to the outside; that all heating devices shall be so constructed that they will not, when burning, permit escape of carbon monoxide gas into the air to be heated; due to any fault in design of such devices; that all such devices shall have the approval of a testing agency under control of the engineering experiment station, the Ohio State University; that all such devices shall be accompanied by an approved set of instructions and precautions governing their use, and that their installation shall be subject to regulations of properly constituted state and local authorities.

INCREASES IN AUTO PRICES PREDICTED

Cleveland, Feb. 14.—Sharp increases in auto prices can be anticipated local manufacturers said today, and these advances may come within the very near future.

Increase in the costs of steel, rubber, and other commodities, as well as constantly increasing labor costs will force manufacturers to increase their prices, it was said.

Columbus, Feb. 10.—Another legislative battle over the Ohio workmen's compensation law is expected to be opened next week by introduction of a bill which, among other things, would permit private liability companies to compete with the state in writing compensation insurance. FREE SEEDS BILL
LOSES IN HOUSE

Washington, Feb. 14.—Permanent legislation providing free garden seeds to members of Congress for distribution among their constituents was defeated in the house agriculture committee by a tie vote.

Representative Langley, Republican, Kentucky, proposed that Congress appropriate annually $500,000 to purchase seeds.

He introduced the bill after the House had defeated an item of $350,000 for a similar purpose in an appropriation bill.

DEMOCRATS SCORE DEBT AGREEMENT IN U. S. SENATE

Washington, Feb. 14.—The British debt funding bill, which has been given a clear field, occupied the senate's session today.

Addresses in its behalf were made by Chairman McCumber of the finance committee and Senator Smoot, ranking committee Republican and a member of the allied debt commission, which negotiated and recommended the British funding agreement. Both declared that it was the best possible to obtain and Senator Smoot said that none as favorable could be expected from any other debtor nation.

The British agreement was subjected to a continual fire of inquiry and criticism from the Democratic side, the minority stressing that congress should be given power to pass on all future debt arrangements.

Administration leaders hope to obtain a vote on the debt funding measure without delay.

Eventual passage of the British debt measure by a large majority generally is conceded, but the shipping bill's fate is more in doubt. Opponents predict its defeat, either by failure to get before the senate again before adjournment of congress March 3 or by emasculation. Some administration leaders who, in the past, have been predicting a vote on the shipping bill, admitted privately that, as a result of the temporary sidetracking of the measure, it appeared doomed.

CRUDE OILS ADVANCE.

Findlay, Feb. 13.—A ten cent advance in quotations of Central West Crude Oils was announced here today by the Ohio Oil Company. New quotations: Lima $2.48; Indiana $2.28; Wooster $2.40; Illinois and Princeton $2.27; Waterloo $1.75; Plymouth $1.65.

The Bulgarians and Turks are making common cause in their demand for an autonomous state in western Thrace. (Western Thrace was allotted to Greece by the Lausanne peace conference.)

JEWELS IS WRONG

Federal Authorities Investigate But Do Not Find Missing Loot.

New York, Feb. 14.—The grave of James Jones, sailor, reported to contain the Russian crown jewels, worth $4,000,000 was opened today. No jewels were found.

Federal authorities opened the grave in the government cemetery, Brooklyn, to determine the authenticity of reports that part of the Russian crown jewels were concealed in the coffin.

Soldiers guarded the cemetery and prevented the entrance of curiosity seekers. A small crowd that had collected to witness the disinterment was quickly dispersed. Several representatives of the customs office and the U. S. Treasury Department were present.

ATTORNEY GENERAL IS SERIOUSLY ILL

Washington, Feb. 14.—Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty is "a very sick man" according to word reaching some of his closest friends here today.

The attorney general is confined to his apartment, seeing no one and transacting no official business. Dr. C. E. Sawyer, the White House physician and a trained nurse, are attending him.

Mr. Daugherty's condition was described today as not being "immediately dangerous," but of such nature as to lead to grave doubts as to whether he would be able for months to resume full direction of the department of justice.

SHERIFF FREED BY JURY.

Ironton, O., Feb. 14.—The grand jury, which has been probing the charges of first degree murder preferred against Sheriff C. W. Dement, Prosecuting Attorney W. L. Elking and Special Deputies Alf Mannon and O. M. Troops Seize Power Plant at Essen—Mayor Is Arrested.

SITUATION TENSE

Terrible Happening in Near Future Forecast From Indications

Berlin, Feb. 14.—France may blockade the German coast to enforce obedience in the Rhineland and Ruhr, according to persistent reports current here today. It is understood that French warships in a few days will appear in the North Sea and Baltic ports of Bremen, Hamburg, Stettin, Kiel and Dantzig.

German workmen at Ruhrort sank a barge in the Rhine-Herne canal blocking the passageway.

This was one of the most important canals in the Westphalian zone for coal traffic.

Three French armored cars and three motor trucks filled with French infantry surrounded and took over the Rhinish Electrical works which supplies with power the entire Rhinish industrial district as far as Bonn.

Essen, Feb. 14.—Acting Mayor Schaefer, of Essen, was arrested today upon orders from General Fournier, the French commandant. Strong squads of French soldiers have occupied the municipal power plant, but so far have been unable to master the intricate mechanism. Machine guns have been planted about the building.

The trouble began when German electricians turned off the lights in the Kaiserhof, French military headquarters. General Fournier sent an ultimatum to the German municipal authorities demanding that power be supplied on penalty of seizure of the plant by the French. The ultimatum was ignored and occupation of the plant followed.

CANDLES USED.
French officers were compelled to dress and eat breakfast this morning by candle light.

A tense situation exists here. Germans are growing more truculent in their resistance to the French and the French troops are adopting more vigorous measures to deal with unruly crowds.

The atmosphere of the whole Ruhr district is surcharged with sullen animosity, which indicates some terrible happening in the near future. Long suppressed hatred on both sides seems about to come to the surface in an explosion. If this comes to pass, terrific bloodshed undoubtedly would ensue.

Weaponless German civilians would be pitted against rifles, bayonets and machine guns. Cool heads are counselling moderation, pointing out that Germans cannot fight bullets with their bare hands. The French military forces have a perfect organizer and their movements are carried out with machine like precision. They would have little difficulty in overcoming German mobs if it came to an actual clash.

REPORT FOOD SHORTAGE.
The railroad tie up is causing the food shortage to grow more acute day by day. Forty-five thousand children have been without milk for a week.

German storekeepers are refusing to sell the French, but French officers declare that they will break the blockade.

Occupational troops are displaying not only increased nervousness but antagonism. There have been instances where pedestrians were forcibly shoved from the sidewalks or where Germans were struck with riding whips when they offended the French.

MYSTERY MURDER BAFFLES POLICE OF ILLINOIS CITY

Chicago, Feb. 14.—Police today followed three theories in an effort to solve the mysterious murder of a man whose nude and mutilated body was found deep in a dense grove near Geneva, Ill., last night. The victim had been shot twice and hacked to death.

The police theories were:
1.—That the death plot may have been the result of a clash between booze runners.
2.—That the slayer might have been an outraged husband.
3.—That the dead man was a member of a robber band and was killed by his companions.

The body was found by Robert Johnson, a farm hand. The thoroughness of the mutilation almost precludes identification.

M. J. HARTLEY DIES OF PNEUMONIA LATE TUESDAY EVENING

M. J. Hartley, 69, mayor of Xenia, former Common Pleas Judge, and prominent attorney, died at Espey Hospital at 11:30 o'clock Tuesday night. His death followed two weeks' illness, during which pleuro-pneumonia developed. Taken ill about two weeks ago of grip, Mr. Hartley apparently recovered from the effects of the disease. After he had a setback. The second time he was taken ill, pneumonia developed and he was removed to the hospital a week ago. His condition was considered critical for several days before his death.

In the death of Mr. Hartley, one of the most prominent members of the Greene County Bar has been removed. Practicing his profession in Xenia for more than 40 years he gained a reputation as one of the best read lawyers in the county, a student of all various forms of law and a lover of good literature. Tribute to his ability was paid in number of important appointments of a civil and political nature ending with his election to the City Commission and as nominal mayor of Xenia, which position he held at the time of his death.

Born On Farm

Mansel, Johnson Hartley was born on a farm at the edge of Quaker City, in Guernsey County, Ohio, August 9, 1853, a son of William P. and Eleanor E. Johnson Hartley. Reared on the home farm, he received his early education in the schools of Quaker City and when little more than a boy began a career of school teaching which he followed four years. He then entered Bethany College, West Virginia, and graduated from the institution in 1877 with the degree of Bachelor of Arts, a classmate of the late Justice Joseph R. Lamar of the United States Supreme Court.

Returning to his home town from college, Mr. Hartley was elected superintendent of schools of Quaker City, a position he held a year, when in 1878, he was appointed superintendent of schools at the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home, Xenia. In 1879 he received from the State Board of Examiners a life certificate to teach school in Ohio. During his period of teaching, Mr. Hartley also began the study of law and after coming to Xenia began the serious study of this profession under the late Charles L. Darlington, Sr.

Studied Law

At the conclusion of his term as superintendent of schools at the Home in 1880, Mr. Hartley devoted full time to his law studies and was admitted to practice in April, 1881. Upon his admission to the bar he engaged in practice for a time by himself but shortly formed a partnership with the late Captain Benoni Nesbit, which lasted from 1880 to 1902, when his partner retired from practice. With the exception of these six years, Mr. Hartley had continued his practice alone.

While engaged in the practice of law here, Mr. Hartley took an active part in civic affairs and served in a number of important positions. As a leading local Democrat he also took an active part in his party affairs and was considered a party leader here. During the period from 1903 to 1906 he served as a member of the board of public service of Xenia. He was director of public safety from 1907 to 1908 and served one year as a member of the city's sinking fund commission. In 1881 he was elected school examiner for the city of Xenia a position he held for more than 20 years.

Member of Board

For two years, 1889-1891 he was a member of the board of trustees of the O. S. and S. O. Home, under appointment of former Governor James M. Campbell and in 1892 he was the nominee of the Democratic party for Presidential elector from this district and was for some years United States Commissioner of the Circuit Court for the southern district of Ohio. He was a member of the State Bar Association and has served in various official capacities in that organization and was likewise a member of the American Bar Association, and an Ohio officer of that organization as well as being a member of the Greene County Bar Association. For several years he had served as a member of the state committee on uniform laws for Ohio which meets annually.

Mr. Hartley not only practiced as a trial lawyer, but in a fiduciary capacity has handled numerous large estates, trusteeships, guardianships and the like. He was president and a member of the board of directors of the Peoples Building and Savings Company, a former member of the board of directors of the Shawnee Refrigeration Company and a director of the Wilson Engineering and Contracting Company. He was a former director and likewise attorney for the proposed Xenia, Cedarville, James town, and Wilmington Traction Company and also has acted as local attorney for the Dayton, Springfield and Xenia Southern Railway Company.

On Charter Committee

Politically, in addition to the part he has played in Democratic politics in Greene County, Mr. Hartley was a member of the charter committee of 15 people, which drafted the charter now in use by the city. This was in 1917 when there was a popular movement in favor of the commission-manager form of government, and he took an active part in crystallizing this sentiment into successful consummation of the plan. When former Common Pleas Judge C. H. Kyle resigned from the bench to accept a post on the state board of pardons, Mr. Hartley received the Governor's appointment to become Common Pleas Judge and he occupied the bench for several weeks until Judge R. L. Gowdy's term of office began. In the fall of 1921 he was elected a member of the City Commission and when he succeeded to that office January 1, 1922, he was elected mayor of the city by his fellow members on the Commission.

Fraternally, Mr. Hartley was affiliated with the local lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, a member of the grand lodge of that order since 1888 and a former trustee of the same and ex-officio trustee of the Odd Fellows Home at Springfield.

DEATH REMOVES XENIA'S MAYOR

Mayor Mansel Hartley, who died Tuesday night at Espey Hospital, after two weeks' illness and whose activities during his more than 40 years of practice of the law profession here have made him known all over the state. Funeral services will be held at the Baptist Church Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

He was also a Scottish Rite Mason, past worshipful master of Xenia Lodge No. 49, Free and Accepted Masons, and affiliated with the consistory, Ancient and Accepted Rite of the valley of Dayton. He also retained his affiliation with his college Greek-letter fraternity, and has been a member of various commercial organizations in the city. He has always supported the Baptist Church here.

Mr. Hartley was united in marriage to Miss Laura H. Coffman, of Dayton, September 11, 1884, and she survives him with one sister, Mrs. S. F. McBurney, of Quaker City, Ohio, who was here at the time of his death.

Funeral services will be held at the Baptist Church, East Market Street, at 2:30 o'clock, Friday afternoon and burial will be made in Woodland Cemetery. Friends may call at the home, 498 South Detroit Street, any time after 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Strong sentiment was expressed for the organizations of a dairy calf club, among the boys and girls of the county, which will be effected in the near future.

FRANCE JUSTIFIED IN HER COURSE TOWARDS GERMANY.

"Hats off to France—She is fighting our battle and probably will win." Thus Lord Rothermere, founder of the Sunday Pictorial, summarizes the reparations problem and the action of the French in marching into the Ruhr.

Lord Rothermere, in the Daily Mail, says: I believe that the French Government has taken the right course, and the only possible course, in entering the Ruhr Valley coal field in order to compel the German Government to submit adequate proposals for the payment of reparations.

Germany has violated the peace treaty of Versailles. She has not kept up her payments, and, in my judgment, there is ample evidence that she never means to pay, except under compulsion. According to one calculation, in four years she has only paid the equivalent of $77,000,000 in cash and $160,000,000 in kind. Since last June she has paid no money whatever and has delivered very little in commodities.

After the Franco-German War of 1870-71 France paid in less than four years much more actual cash than Germany has paid to the allies since the armistice of 1918, although in the seventies France was only computed to possess two fifths of her present wealth.

In order to appreciate the French frame of mind we should remember how wickedly and wantonly the Germans devastated Northern France during the World War, and we should reflect upon the systematic attempts to avoid payment which Germany has practiced ever since the armistice. Above all, we should ask ourselves how the Germans would have treated France and Great Britain if they had won the war.

Germany behaved with the utmost ruthlessness and brutality to France after the capitulation of Paris in 1871. She tore from her the provinces of Alsace and Lorraine, and exacted an indemnity which for that period was regarded as almost incredibly large.

Bismarck said: "If France does not meet her obligations we will do as caterpillars do that invade a tree. We will eat her leaf by leaf."

BAVARIA GIVES EX-ROYALISTS GREAT ESTATES.

The ostensibly republican Government of Bavaria has treated the former sovereign house right royally. In the financial settlement between the state and the former dynasty, ex-Crown Prince Rupprecht, whom most Bavarians regard as rightfully King, and other members of the Wittelsbach family were removed from all fear of poverty like that to which their oppressed Saxon cousins have been submitted.

The Bavarian Diet has awarded to the Wittelsbachs 25,000 acres of land, seven castles, including the famous Castle Hohenschwangau of the Mad King, a large number of houses in Munich, one of the Munich theatres and 60,000,000 marks in cash.

Most of the former royal picture galleries and museums have been transferred, not to the state, but to the "Wittelsbach Foundation," perpetuating the name of the ex-dynasty, so Bavarians and visitors can breathe the odors of royalty whenever they visit the famous collections.

Another constant remainder of royalty is the reservation of the royal box in the state theatres of Munich for members of the royal family, as before the revolution.

"PORK" VS. THE BUDGET.

There have been mutterings and some moanings, but Congress has been going along very well with the budget plans. Then came the Budget Bureau with word that we could not afford to spend more than $27,000,000 on rivers and harbors in the fiscal year 1923-24.

Now, it is known to all men that the Government is trying to save money and the Administration is pledged to cut expenses. In theory Congress is in full agreement, but—

Much merit may be acquired in one's district by picking out a Crooked Creek and making it a part of the "national waterways" despite the fact that any boat able to navigate thereon would need to be a good sailer on a heavy dew. Then, too, the rivers and harbors "pork barrel" is by way of being an institution. Congress was tempted, Congress backslid and Congress fell. The smell of pork was too much. With grave deliberation and appropriate words and gestures $29,000,000 was added to the measure.

Some of these unknown and hitherto unsung streams have possibilities, no doubt. In some far day they may be roadsteads of commerce. However, there can be no great hurry about them. They will be there tomorrow, and today we are trying to cut our garment of expenditures according to the cloth of our revenues.

The Budget Bureau has been created to do the cutting. The backsliding of Congress is disquieting, for once it gets the habit of kicking over the trace chains and ignoring the budget it may again become a law unto itself and the whole new system be nullified.

BACK TO THE FARM.

Out of the recent discussion of the American farmer, his problems, his points of view, his attitude toward his work and his urban customers, has come a clear-cut statement from Dean Watts, of the Pennsylvania College School of Agriculture.

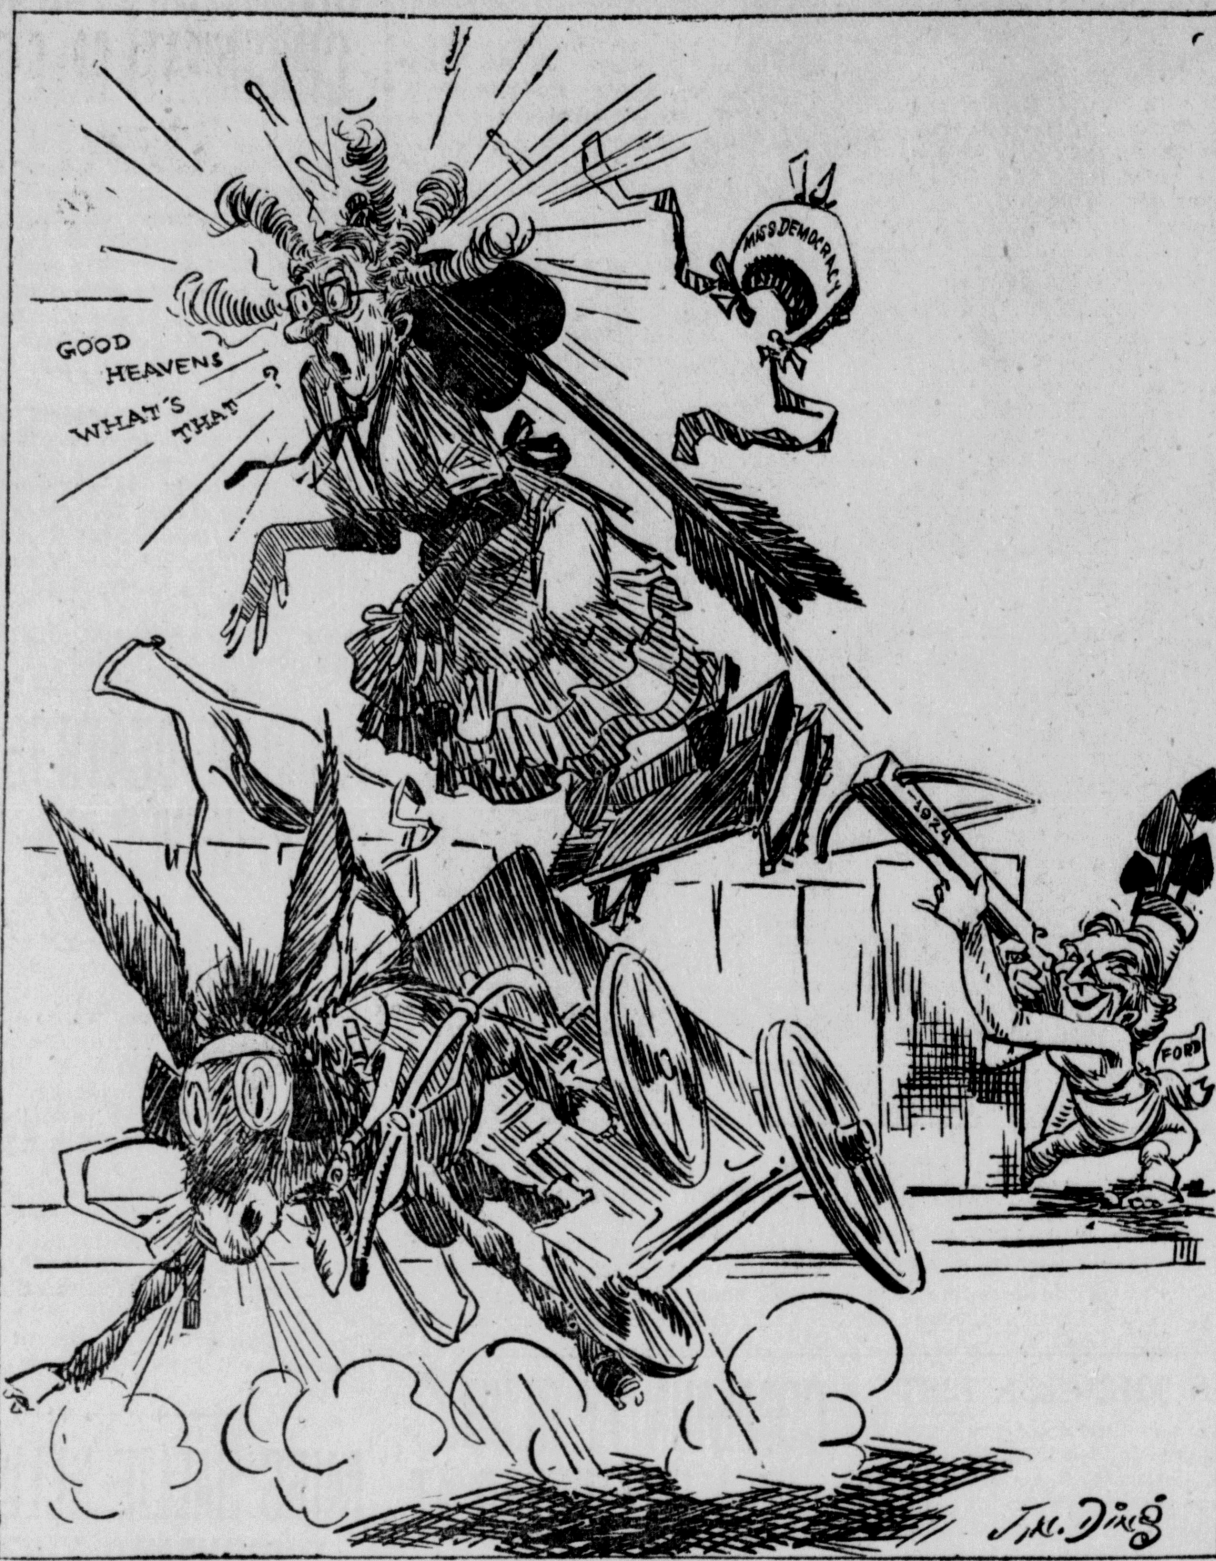

He says that the Agricultural School was forced to refuse 1000 applicants for admission in 1922. The dean adds, no doubt basing his opinion, at least in part, on these figures, that there is manifested a constantly growing interest in the "back-to-the-farm" movement.

We who live in the cities have been aroused to an unaccustomed interest in the farmer by a tardy realization of what might happen to us if he gave up in disgust. Our country has been endowed so richly that food scarcity seemed always a remote and almost impossible bugaboo, until the war and Europe's necessities put us on short rations. Since then we have read many grisly accounts of famine in the East and its European borderland, in countries normally flowing with milk and honey, and reflection on home conditions becomes plain prudence.

The American farmer faces a double problem of production and distribution. The first part is the more difficult to solve, because of labor shortage and the high cost of mechanical substitutes for strong arms. The general application of the co-operative marketing principle seems to offer relief from present waste of farm products. It is the farm-help problem that causes economists to throw up their hands and the farmer his job.

The most satisfactory and permanent solution of the manpower problem would be by an extension and multiplication of this "back-to-the-farm" movement, this resolve to leave the crowded city or the squalid industrial town, to exchange the time clock for the sun and an ordered job and weekly pay envelope for hard but healthy work plus independence.

LOOKS AS IF WE WERE GOING TO HAVE TO TAKE THIS THING SERIOUSLY

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

The appropriation year for the O. S. and S. O. Home, beginning February 15, arrangements have been begun for the plans for the new army and recreation hall to be erected at the Home the coming season.

The coal shovelers employed on the coal dock in the Pan Handle yards last night quit work. They were obliged to work away up on the dock where the wind and weather had full sweep at them and they claimed the work was too hard for the money. Their places were filled with difficulty.

One of the worst days of the winter, from the weather standpoint, came on yesterday. Rain, sleet and snow held high carnival all day long. Even the town clock on the Court House which has never faltered in its duty through the months it has been marking the hours for the city joined in the general stand still of the community. The hands had frozen up good and tight. There were no less than about five different entertainments down for this place last night, but some pulled off.—Bellbrook Items.

THE BACK OF THE NECK

Sometimes I am so cross with the women who pay too much attention to the fronts of themselves and too little to their backs! This is one of the cross moods. It started by seeing a young girl get out of a taxi, her face showing the result of an hour's concentrated expert effort at beauty, and her back—well, the bad result of four seconds. Her hair, so becoming in front, dragged down her neck behind, her dress wasn't properly fastened.

tened, her skirt hung wrong when seen from the back and the heels of her otherwise well polished shoes, ran over and should have been sent to a shoemaker for repair. It's hard to look very nice and neat in the back if you haven't a long mirror to stand before. But it's not impossible. For one thing, all dresses should fasten before or at the side, unless you're an obliging family or a lady's maid to make the hooks and snaps meet as they should, or unless you can reach easily around yourself!

WOMEN GIVE OUT

Housework is hard enough when healthy. Every Xenia woman who is having backache, blue and nervous spells, dizzy headaches and kidney or bladder troubles, should be glad to heed this Xenia experience:

Mrs. Woodrow C. Warner, 225 E. Third St., says: "Several years ago I was in misery with pains that seized me through my back. When I stooped to dust I got such terrible sharp stabs of pain through the small of my back I could hardly move at times. Mornings my back and shoulders felt as stiff as a board. I was tired and weak and became dizzy. I also had severe nervous spells. My kidneys were irregular in action and caused me considerable annoyance. Doan's Kidney Pills were highly recommended to me so I got some. Several boxes relieved me of the trouble; the pains in my back left and my kidneys became normal."

There are two kinds of people, at least, in this world playing at the game of life—the workers, and the speculators.

Go where you will and you will find these two represented.

In business, in society, in sport—one who puts his heart into his work, believing that work alone brings its full reward; and the other merely looking on, watching for some short cut or some clever play of chance to edge out worth and toil.

And there are speculators in friendship as well.

The man or woman who sees nothing in the warmth of friendship, reaching toward it solely for its opportunity of selfish gain.

Life seems at times like a great many different many things, but one thing it is not—it is not a mere speculation.

I like most to think of life as a real man's or woman's job—something big to be looked into, studied, and solved as far as in us lies the ability.

So then, naturally, the speculator in life gets nothing from me but my most profound contempt.

It is true that we are all born into a very unequal world. But this isn't the fault of the world.

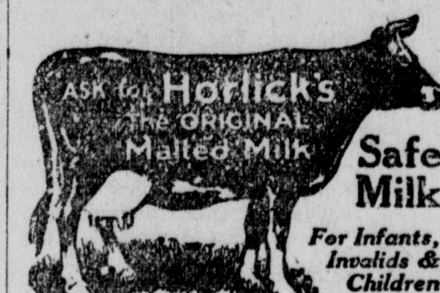

Beauty and opportunity present themselves on equal terms to all. The inability to appreciate on the part of unequal minds is where the trouble starts.

And so we get those who see bigness and greatness in the mere daisy or pansy, and those who would walk over them for a thousand years and not know that they were planted by the hand of God.

Speculators in 'life'—graspers for that which they have not earned, and have not a spark of desire in their make-up to rightfully earn—sappers of the life that belongs to others; No wonder that Christ drove this cult from the temple.

You will never know life in all its wonder and beauty and significance until you earn it.

FAMOUS AUTOS DEFEAT DAYTON MALEYS

CENTRAL HIGH TO MEET WILMINGTON THERE THURSDAY

WHILE EMERALDS WIN FROM FAMOUS FIVE

FAMOUS AUTOS WIN AGAIN.
By Wones.

The Famous Autos continued their winning streak at the expense of the Dayton Maleys, a team from the N. C. R. League, at the Central High Court Tuesday night, the locals winning handily by a 38 to 12 score. The Maleys substituted for the Red Wings which team was unable to come here Tuesday night.

The teams battled on even terms for the first five minutes and the contest had the earmarks of another tight game, but Barlow broke the ice with a neat ringer and Overhauser threw a long shot knotting the count. Mark broke the tie with a basket and Barlow got another one.

The Autos seemed to find themselves at this stage of the contest and quickly jumped into the lead never to be overtaken. Barlow and Mark made baskets in rapid succession and from then on the locals began to locate the hoop with amazing regularity.

The visitors found it difficult to get by Solowitz and Koehly and they had to resort to long shots most of which went wide. The locals had a good edge when the whistle proclaimed the end of the half, the score being 18 to 5 at the half-way mark.

The second half was a repetition of the first with the visitors fighting hard to stop the locals' scoring activities, but their best efforts could not prevent the Main Street lads from locating the net. The all around play of the locals was good to watch. Their goal shooting was of the top-notch brand and they uncovered a splendid passing game. Barlow and Mark were the shining lights this time, their goal shooting being very good, each caging the pill eight times. Koester got two and Solowitz and Koehly held down the guard positions in fine style. The game was unusually clean, only three personal fouls being called. The lineup and summary:

Famous (38)	Maleys (11)
Barlow	L.F.
Mark	R.F.
Koester	C.
Solowitz	L.G.
Koehly	R.G.
Field Goals: Barlow 8, Mark 8, Koester 2, Solowitz 1, Overhauser 2, Geiger 1, Martin 1. Foul Goals: Geiger 1. Referee: Rachford.

EMERALDS DEFEAT FAMOUS FIVE

The L. E. John Emeralds obtained sweet revenge in defeating the Famous Five by a 31 to 17 count in the preliminary game, a munny loop contest.

The first half was nip and tuck with neither team having the advantage but when the period ended the John athletes were holding the long end of a 13 to 12 count. In the second half, with Yeakley and Davis hitting the net regularly, the Emeralds soon piled up a lead which spelled defeat for the Famous Gang.

The Famous outfit was somewhat off color in its basketshooting in this period. Yeakley, Skelly and Davis played best for the winners while Stephens, Derrick, Barnett and Owens were the luminaries of the losing team. Lineup and summary:

Famous (17)	Emeralds (31)
Yeakley	L.F.
Skelly	R.F.
Davis	C.
Stephens	L.G.
Derrick	R.G.
Barnett	Owens
Field Goals: Yeakley 6, Skelly 5, Davis 4, Stephens 3, Derrick 2, Barnett 3. Foul Goals: Davis 1, Muterspaw 1. Referee and Umpire—Rachford and Solowitz.

CENTRAL HIGH AND WILMINGTON

With a victory over London High to their credit, Coach Earl Burgner's Central High quintet will go into its game with Wilmington in the Clinton County metropolis Thursday night, with considerable more confidence and resolve than has characterized the play of the locals this season.

Several severe upsets disheartened the blue and white performers and the neat victory over the Madison County tossers here last week, did much to the aplomb of the Xenia basketballers. Captain Don Currie and his mates now have the old fighting spirit that makes them think they can now all come down in the remaining games on the local schedule and this is the sort of spirit that Coach Burgner is banking on to return a victory in the Thursday night melee

Both Xenia and Wilmington have bowed to the crack McClain High team of Greenfield this season, which puts Thursday night's competitors on nearly equal terms. Fans are expecting one of the best games of the season when these old rivals get together. There will be no Central High game staged here this week.

PRESTO-LITES AGAIN ON TOP

In the semi-windup of the three game court card at the Central High gym Tuesday night, the Presto-lite girls of Dayton defeated the McGregor Girls of Dayton, playing under boys' rules, by the score of 8 to 4. The game was interesting to watch and the girls game under boys rules is rapidly gaining in favor here. The lineup and summary:

Presto-lites—8	McGregors—4
L. Russell	L.F.
D. Russell	R.F.
Wilkins	C.
Wagner	L.G.
Elliott	R.G.
Substitutions: McGregor—Smedley for Wagner, Wagner for Smedley, Smedley for McCarthy. Field goals: L. Russell 2, Elliott 1, Wilkins 1, McCarthy 1, Wagner 1.

CEDARVILLE HIGH WINS TWO

Cedarville High School basketball teams won two games at Cedarville Friday night, the Cedarville boys' first team coming from behind in the second half of the game with Yellow Springs and winning 19 to 17. The first half had ended 9 to 1 in favor of Yellow Springs. Bates stirred for Cedarville, making 13 points. In a preliminary game the Cedarville High girls defeated the Yellow Springs High girls 19 to 16 in a closely fought game, Cedarville and Jamestown will mingle on the Cedarville court Friday evening.

Of our beloved mother, Mrs. Rachel A. Harrison, who left us two years ago today:

"God called her home, it was his will. But in our hearts she lingers still. Her memory is as dear today. As on the day she passed away. God loved her too, and thought it best To take her home with him to rest.

APPROVES PLAN TO CONSOLIDATE ARMY AND NAVY

Would Merge Two Departments Under one Defense Organization.

Washington, Feb. 14.—President Harding is said to have given approval to a plan for reorganization of government departments and bureaus under which the war and navy departments would be consolidated in a single portfolio designated as "the department of defense."

The plan, which contemplates a number of other changes in the organization of the executive branch of the government, is understood to have been approved at a conference with Walter P. Brown, ex-officio chairman of the joint congressional committee on reorganization, which was appointed a number of months ago, but has not been able to agree on a program.

The proposals favored by Mr. Harding are said to have been worked out by Mr. Brown in conference with the president, members of the cabinet and some of the committee members and certain unofficial experts. The plan, it is understood, will be submitted to the committee by the president as a basis for consideration in an effort to bring its members together on a program for reorganization.

The Brown plan is described as calling for establishment of a new department of education and public welfare, with supervision over all educational activities of the government, and over all hospitalization facilities, including those of the public health service, army, navy and interior department institutions, and possibly the veterans' bureau. The new department, according to official information, would be headed by a cabinet member reporting directly to the president with an under-secretary in direct charge of each of the two main divisions of education and welfare.

The forestry service, which has been the center of much discussion and reported plans for which have led to talk of differences within the cabinet, is said to be left under the department of agriculture.

KILLED BY STONE HURLED BY BLAST

Columbus, Feb. 14.—Dewey R. Hendren, 25, of Newark, O., was killed by a stone hurled from the Scioto river, 1,200 feet away, where a blast of dynamite was set off by the Callahan Construction company, dredging the Scioto river. Struck by a seven-pound rock, Hendren fell to the street and lived only five minutes. His neck was broken. Hendren saw overseas service, was a rubber worker and ball player. Authorities said after an investigation that it would be impossible to fix any criminal responsibility for Hendren's death.

Howling Blizzard Rages In Dakotas—Ohio Feels Cold Snap

Chicago, Feb. 14.—Driving across the Dakotas, through Minnesota and Wisconsin, a howling blizzard is sweeping today—the "worst blizzard in twenty-five years."

Train traffic was badly hampered. Minneapolis, Minn., reported a temperature of 1 below zero, as did Fond du lac, Wis., this morning.

The entire Midwest was in the grip of the coldest spell of the winter.

Several Wisconsin cities were reported buried in a heavy snowfall. The lower lake regions, however, were not hit as hard by the cold.

A train with forty passengers aboard was reported marooned in the snow near Marshall Pass, Colo. Trains on practically every transcontinental railroad were battling huge drifts.

One death resulted from the cold in Chicago, where zero weather prevailed. Mrs. Etta Hardesty, 65, was found dead in a drift of snow near her home.

Even colder weather is predicted for the next 24 hours, weather officials predicting a drop below zero. The cold wave is drifting southwestward.

OHIO IS IN PATH OF STORM.

Toledo, Feb. 14.—Northwestern Ohio is in the grip of a 60 mile blizzard and zero temperature today. One death has already resulted. Andrew Drotolcak, trucker's helper, was thrown from his truck when it skidded on the icy streets in front of a street car. He fell to the pavement and was instantly killed.

Mrs. Mayme Rya was also instantly killed last night when slippery streets caused a machine driven by Floyd Pope, Haskins, Ohio, business man, to skid, knocking the woman against an electric light pole.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 14.—The temperature dropped twenty-four degrees here in 24 hours. Fourteen above was the coldest this morning.

Dr. Burger declared that Daniel and Richard are alive and in New Orleans.

DRAFT EVADERS ARE NOW EXEMPT COURT DECIDES

Government Cannot Punish These Men Under Ruling of Federal Judge

HUNDREDS ARE FREED

Congressional Resolution Swept Aside by Decision of Westenhaver

Cleveland, Feb. 14.—Under a ruling handed down here by Federal Judge D. C. Westenhaver, thousands of men and youths who evaded the selective service law during the world war are exempt from punishment by the government.

The court held that the joint resolution of congress, which the government has relied upon to obviate the statute of limitations in the prosecution of "slackers" and draft evaders, is "merely an expression of legislative opinion."

Judge Westenhaver ruled that only when indictments had been returned or information had been filed before the expiration of three years from the time the alleged offense was committed can the government continue prosecution against draft evaders.

The decision was handed down in the case against Charles Salberg of Canton, who was indicted for failure to register June 5, 1917. Salberg's counsel invoked the statute of limitations, alleging that the government failed to have Salberg indicted until last Dec. 20, although prosecution was barred under this statute after June, 1920.

To controvert this, Assistant District Attorney General J. P. Lillod cited the joint resolution of congress, approved last March 8, under which it is declared that no peace proclamation, act or resolution shall be construed as terminating the amenability to prosecution and trial of persons who failed to comply with the provisions of the draft law.

"This is a declaratory and not an enacting resolution," Judge Westenhaver held in dismissing Salberg. "It does not create any new offenses nor modify any existing laws. It may be entitled to respect as an expression of legislative opinion, but one must look to acts, joint resolutions and proclamations comprehended within its descriptive language in order to determine what the effect thereof may be."

WYNN IS ACCUSED IN ALLEGED FRAUD PROBE IN HOUSE

Columbus, Feb. 14.—Two witnesses, testifying before the special committee of the house of representatives which is hearing the Pike county election contest in which Harry L. Foster, Republican, is seeking to unseat Robert S. Wynn, Democrat, said Representative Wynn had paid them $5 each "for their time" in voting absent voters' ballots. One of the witnesses, Henry Harris, living near Richmondale, Ross county, said Representative Wynn also gave him $5 for Mrs. Harris, who also had voted an absent voters' ballot. The other witness who said he had received money was Emerson Harris, son of Henry Harris. Both witnesses said they had later withdrawn their ballots, together with Mrs. Harris' ballot, but that they had not returned the money to Wynn.

ANTI-KLAN AND POLICE BILLS IN

Columbus, Feb. 14.—Another anti-Ku Klux Klan bill was introduced in the house by Representative Harding of Warren county. The bill would make it a felony for any person to appear in public in the hooded regalia of the Klan. Representative Kasch of Summit county introduced a state police bill providing for three troops of 65 men each, to be used in policing the highways and not in labor disputes and to be paid for by a gasoline tax.

STEPS ARE TAKEN TO PREVENT GAS STOVE POISONING

Conference in Columbus Decides to Ask for Legis- lation on Subject

Columbus, Feb. 14.—Recommendations for state legislation designed to materially reduce the members of fatalities resulting from carbon monoxide gas poisoning, due to improperly ventilated, or otherwise defective gas stoves and other heating devices, are contained in resolutions adopted at a conference here of state health officials, representatives of the federal government, the Ohio State University, gas producing and distributing companies and concerns making stoves and heaters.

The conference decided to ask for laws providing that the installation of all stoves used for heating rooms or buildings and all hot water heaters shall be flued, or vented, to the outside; that all heating devices shall be so constructed that they will not, when burning, permit escape of carbon monoxide gas into the air to be heated; due to any fault in design of such devices; that all such devices shall have the approval of a testing agency under control of the engineering experiment station, the Ohio State University; that all such devices shall be accompanied by an approved set of instructions and precautions governing their use, and that their installation shall be subject to regulations of properly constituted state and local authorities.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Permanent legislation providing free garden seeds to members of Congress for distribution among their constituents was defeated in the house agriculture committee by a tie vote.

He introduced the bill after the House had defeated an item of $350,000 for a similar purpose in an appropriation bill.

DEMOCRATS SCORE DEBT AGREEMENT IN U. S. SENATE

Washington, Feb. 14.—The British debt funding bill, which has been given a clear field, occupied the senate's session today.

Addresses in its behalf were made by Chairman McCumber of the finance committee and Senator Smoot, ranking committee Republican and a member of the allied debt commission, which negotiated and recommended the British funding agreement. Both declared that it was the best possible to obtain and Senator Smoot said that none as favorable could be expected from any other debtor nation.

The British agreement was subjected to a continual fire of inquiry and criticism from the Democratic side, the minority stressing that congress should be given power to pass on all future debt arrangements.

Federal Authorities Investigate But Do Not Find Missing Loot.

New York, Feb. 14.—The grave of James Jones, sailor, reported to contain the Russian crown jewels, worth $1,000,000, was opened today. No jewels were found.

Federal authorities opened the grave in the government cemetery, Brooklyn, to determine the authenticity of reports that part of the Russian crown jewels were concealed in the coffin.

Soldiers guarded the cemetery and prevented the entrance of curiosity seekers. A small crowd that had collected to witness the disinterment was quickly dispersed. Several representatives of the customs office and the U. S. Treasury Department were present.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty is "a very sick man" according to word reaching some of his closest friends here today.

The attorney general is confined to his apartment, seeing no one and transacting no official business. Dr. C. E. Sawyer, the White House physician and a trained nurse, are attending him.

Mr. Daugherty's condition was described today as not being "immediately dangerous," but of such nature as to lead to grave doubts as to whether he would be able for months to resume full direction of the department of justice.

THREATEN STEP TO MAKE NATION OBEY MANDATES

Troops Seize Power Plant at Essen—Mayor Is Arrested.

SITUATION TENSE

Terrible Happening in Near Future Forecast From Indications

Berlin, Feb. 14.—France may blockade the German coast to enforce obedience in the Rhineland and Ruhr, according to persistent reports current here today. It is understood that French warships in a few days will appear in the North Sea and Baltic ports of Bremen, Hamburg, Stettin, Kiel and Danzig.

German workmen at Ruhrort sank a barge in the Rhine-Herne canal blocking the passageway. This was one of the most important canals in the Westphalian zone for coal traffic.

Three French armored cars and three motor trucks filled with French infantry surrounded and took over the Rhenish Electrical works which supplies with power the entire Rhenish industrial district as far as Bonn.

Essen, Feb. 14.—Acting Mayor Schaefer, of Essen, was arrested today upon orders from General Fournier, the French commandant. Strong squads of French soldiers have occupied the municipal power plant, but so far have been unable to master the intricate mechanism. Machine guns have been planted about the building.

The trouble began when German electricians turned off the lights in the Kaiserhof, French military headquarters. General Fournier sent an ultimatum to the German municipal authorities demanding that power be supplied on penalty of seizure of the plant by the French. The ultimatum was ignored and occupation of the plant followed.

CANDLES USED.

French officers were compelled to dress and eat breakfast this morning by candle light.

A tense situation exists here. Germans are growing more truculent in their resistance to the French and the French troops are adopting more vigorous measures to deal with unruly crowds.

The atmosphere of the whole Ruhr district is surcharged with sullen animosity, which indicates some terrible happening in the near future. Long suppressed hatred on both sides seems about to come to the surface in an explosion. If this comes to pass, terrible bloodshed undoubtedly would ensue.

Weaponless German civilians would be pitted against rifles, bayonets and machine guns. Cool heads are counselling moderation, pointing out that Germans cannot fight bullets with their bare hands. The French military forces have a perfect organizer and their movements are carried out with machine like precision. They would have little difficulty in overcoming German mobs if it came to an actual clash.

REPORT FOOD SHORTAGE.

The railroad tie up is causing the food shortage to grow more acute day by day. Forty-five thousand children have been without milk for a week. German storekeepers are refusing to sell the French, but French officers declare that they will break the "blockade."

Occupational troops are displaying not only increased nervousness but antagonism. There have been instances where pedestrians were forcibly shoved from the sidewalks or where Germans were struck with riding whips when they offended the French.

MYSTERY MURDER BAFFLES POLICE OF ILLINOIS CITY

Chicago, Feb. 14.—Police today followed three theories in an effort to solve the mysterious murder of a man whose nude and mutilated body was found deep in a dense grove near Geneva, Ill., last night. The victim had been shot twice and hacked to death.

The police theories were:
1.—That the death plot may have been the result of a clash between booze runners.
2.—That the slayer might have been an outraged husband.
3.—That the dead man was a member of a robber band and was killed by his companions.

The body was found by Robert Johnson, a farm hand. The thoroughness of the mutilation almost precludes identification.

M. J. HARTLEY DIES OF PNEUMONIA LATE TUESDAY EVENING

M. J. Hartley, 69, mayor of Xenia, former Common Pleas Judge, and prominent attorney, died at Espey Hospital at 11:30 o'clock Tuesday night. His death followed two weeks' illness, during which pleuro-pneumonia developed. Taken ill about two weeks ago of grip, Mr. Hartley apparently recovered from the effects of the disease. Later he had a setback. The second time he was taken ill, pneumonia developed and he was removed to the hospital a week ago. His condition was considered critical for several days before his death.

In the death of Mr. Hartley, one of the most prominent members of the Greene County Bar has been removed. Practicing his profession in Xenia for more than 40 years he gained a reputation as one of the best read lawyers in the county, a student of all various forms of law and a lover of good literature. Tribute to his ability was paid in number of important appointments of a civil and political nature ending with his election to the City Commission and as nominal mayor of Xenia, which position he held at the time of his death.

Born On Farm
Mansel Johnson Hartley was born on a farm at the edge of Quaker City, in Guernsey County, Ohio, August 9, 1853, a son of William P. and Eleanor E. Johnson Hartley. Reared on the home farm, he received his early education in the schools of Quaker City and when little more than a boy began a career of school teaching which he followed four years. He then entered Bethany College, West Virginia, and graduated from the institution in 1877 with the degree of Bachelor of Arts, a classmate of the late Justice Joseph R. Lamar of the United States Supreme Court.

Returning to his home town from college, Mr. Hartley was elected superintendent of schools of Quaker City, a position he held a year, when in 1878, he was appointed superintendent of schools at the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home, Xenia. In 1879 he received from the State Board of Examiners a life certificate to teach school in Ohio. During his period of teaching, Mr. Hartley also began the study of law and after coming to Xenia began the serious study of this profession under the late Charles L. Darlington, Sr.

Studied Law
At the conclusion of his term as superintendent of schools at the Home in 1880, Mr. Hartley devoted full time to his law studies and was admitted to practice in April, 1881. Upon his admission to the bar he engaged in practice for a time by himself but shortly formed a partnership with the late Captain Benoni Nesbit, which lasted from 1886 to 1902, when his partner retired from practice. With the exception of these six years Mr. Hartley had continued his practice alone.

While engaged in the practice of law here, Mr. Hartley took an active part in civic affairs and served in a number of important positions. As a leading local Democrat he also took an active part in his party affairs and was considered a party leader here. During the period from 1903 to 1906 he served as a member of the board of public service of Xenia. He was director of public safety from 1907 to 1908 and served one year as a member of the city's sinking fund commission. In 1881 he was elected school examiner for the city of Xenia a position he held for more than 20 years.

Member of Board

For two years, 1889-1891 he was a member of the board of trustees of the O. S. and S. O. Home, under appointment of former Governor James M. Campbell and in 1892 he was the nominee of the Democratic party for Presidential elector from this district and was for some years United States Commissioner of the Circuit Court for the southern district of Ohio. He was a member of the State Bar Association and has served in various official capacities in that organization and was likewise a member of the American Bar Association, and an Ohio officer of that organization as well as being a member of the Greene County Bar Association. For several years he had served as a member of the state committee on uniform laws for Ohio which meets annually.

Mr. Hartley not only practiced as a trial lawyer, but in a fiduciary capacity has handled numerous large estates, trusteeships, guardianships and the like. He was president and a member of the board of directors of the Peoples Building and Savings Company, a former member of the board of directors of the Shawnee Refrigeration Company and a director of the Wilson Engineering and Contracting Company. He was a former director and likewise attorney for the proposed Xenia, Cedarville, James town, and Wilmington Traction Company and also has acted as local attorney for the Dayton, Springfield and Xenia Southern Railway Company.

On Charter Committee
Politically, in addition to the part he has played in Democratic politics in Greene County, Mr. Hartley was a member of the charter committee of 15 people, which drafted the charter now in use by the city. This was in 1917 when there was a popular movement in favor of the commission-manager form of government, and he took an active part in crystallizing this sentiment into successful consummation of the plan. When former Common Pleas Judge C. H. Kyle resigned from the bench to accept a post on the state board of pardons, Mr. Hartley received the Governor's appointment to become Common Pleas Judge and he occupied the bench for several weeks until Judge R. L. Gowdy's term of office began. In the fall of 1921 he was elected a member of the City Commission and when he succeeded to that office January 1, 1922, he was elected mayor of the city by his fellow members on the Commission.

Fraternally, Mr. Hartley was affiliated with the local lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, a member of the grand lodge of that order since 1888 and a former trustee of the same and ex-officio trustee of the Odd Fellows Home at Springfield.

Thin? Run-down? Sure Way to Get Right Weight

Increase Your Red-Blood-Cells. That's the Sure Way! S. S. S. Builds Blood-Cells; This Means Strength!

Do you know why insurance companies refuse to insure a great many men because they are under weight? Simply because to be under weight often proves low fighting-power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red-cells in your blood, minus health, minus energy, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus. That's why S. S. S., since 1820, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women, a plus in their strength. Hollow cheeks fill out. You stop being a classically-looker. You inspire confidence. Your body fills to the point of power, your flesh becomes firmer, the are lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S. S. S. will build them. Ladies and gentlemen, a pesky, bony face doesn't make you look very important or pretty, does it? Take S. S. S. It contains only pure vegetable medicinal ingredients. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

S. S. S. makes you feel like yourself again

Born of a meeting called to determine the future of the Chamber of Commerce, the community center idea bids fair to be the long looked for melting pot in amalgamating the interests of Xenia into a common cause. Heartily entering into the plan at the meeting Tuesday night, representatives of the various organizations that it is hoped to have represented in the community center, told stories of growing popularity of the movement since its original inception a short time ago.

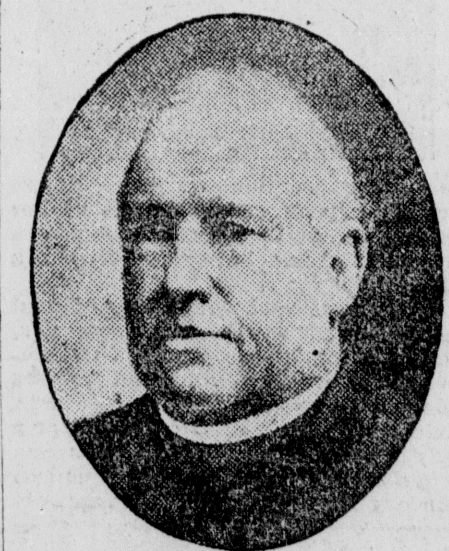

Plans for financing the venture were discussed at the committee meeting, where information concerning the deed by which the late Ed Millen donated the building to the public and the leases held by concerns now occupying quarters in the structure, was brought up for consideration. Because the building was given for Y. M. C. A. purposes, and the community center proposition carries a clause providing for rehabilitation of this organization, it is believed that it can be occupied by the community club at a minimum of operating expense it was determined at the meeting. In the meantime the plan will give life to the Chamber of Commerce, which will be the central unit in the community plan, and will furnish headquarters for civic organizations of both men and women, offering also its gymnasium and swimming pool as added attractions to these associations.

The community center movement was given further impetus Tuesday when the Rotary Club, after the plan heartily endorsed the movement and had been presented by Mr. Flynn, offered its support. Similar action from the Kiwanis Club is expected at the meeting Wednesday evening, while the endorsement of other organizations was carried Tuesday night's committee meetings by their representatives on the committee.

With the movement growing in popularity committee members expressed themselves Tuesday evening as anticipating an unusually large attendance at the meeting to be held at the Chamber of Commerce Friday night.

FRANCE JUSTIFIED IN HER COURSE TOWARDS GERMANY.

"Hats off to France—She is fighting our battle and probably will win." Thus Lord Rothermere, founder of the Sunday Pictorial, summarizes the reparations problem and the action of the French in marching into the Ruhr.

Lord Rothermere, in the Daily Mail, says: I believe that the French Government has taken the right course, and the only possible course, in entering the Ruhr Valley coal field in order to compel the German Government to submit adequate proposals for the payment of reparations.

Germany has violated the peace treaty of Versailles. She has not kept up her payments, and, in my judgment, there is ample evidence that she never means to pay, except under compulsion. According to one calculation, in four years she has only paid the equivalent of $77,000,000 in cash and £160,000,000 in kind. Since last June she has paid no money whatever and has delivered very little in commodities.

After the Franco-German War of 1870-71 France paid in less than four years much more actual cash than Germany has paid to the allies since the armistice of 1918, although in the seventies France was only computed to possess two fifths of her present wealth.

In order to appreciate the French frame of mind we should remember how wickedly and wantonly the Germans devastated Northern France during the World War, and we should reflect upon the systematic attempts to avoid payment which Germany has practiced ever since the armistice. Above all, we should ask ourselves how the Germans would have treated France and Great Britain if they had won the war.

Germany behaved with the utmost ruthlessness and brutality to France after the capitulation of Paris in 1871. She tore from her the provinces of Alsace and Lorraine, and exacted an indemnity which for that period was regarded as almost incredibly large.

Bismarck said: "If France does not meet her obligations we will do as caterpillars do that invade a tree. We will eat her leaf by leaf."

BAVARIA GIVES EX-ROYALISTS GREAT ESTATES.

The ostensibly republican Government of Bavaria has treated the former sovereign house right royally. In the financial settlement between the state and the former dynasty, ex-Crown Prince Rupprecht, whom most Bavarians regard as rightfully King, and other members of the Wittelsbach family were removed from all fear of poverty like that to which their oppressed Saxon cousins have been submitted.

The Bavarian Diet has awarded to the Wittelsbachs 25,000 acres of land, seven castles, including the famous Castle Hohenschwangau of the Mad King, a large number of houses in Munich, one of the Munich theatres and 60,000,000 marks in cash.

Most of the former royal picture galleries and museums have been transferred, not to the state, but to the "Wittelsbach Foundation," perpetuating the name of the ex-dynasty, so Bavarians and visitors can breathe the odors of royalty whenever they visit the famous collections.

Another constant reminder of royalty is the reservation of the royal box in the state theatres of Munich for members of the royal family, as before the revolution.

"PORK" VS. THE BUDGET.

There have been mutterings and some moanings, but Congress has been going along very well with the budget plans. Then came the Budget Bureau with word that we could not afford to spend more than $27,000,000 on rivers and harbors in the fiscal year 1923-24.

Now, it is known to all men that the Government is trying to save money and the Administration is pledged to cut expenses. In theory Congress is in full agreement, but—

Much merit may be acquired in one's district by picking out a Crooked Creek and making it a part of the "national waterways" despite the fact that any boat able to navigate thereon would need to be a good sailer on a heavy dew. Then, too, the rivers and harbors "pork barrel" is by way of being an institution. Congress was tempted, Congress backslid and Congress fell. The smell of pork was too much. With grave deliberation and appropriate words and gestures $29,000,000 was added to the measure.

Some of these unknown and hitherto unsung streams have possibilities, no doubt. In some far day they may be roadsteads of commerce. However, there can be no great hurry about them. They will be there tomorrow, and today we are trying to cut our garment of expenditures according to the cloth of our revenues.

The Budget Bureau has been created to do the cutting. The backsliding of Congress is disquieting, for once it gets the habit of kicking over the trace chains and ignoring the budget it may again become a law unto itself and the whole new system be nullified.

BACK TO THE FARM.

Out of the recent discussion of the American farmer, his problems, his points of view, his attitude toward his work and his urban customers, has come a clear-cut statement from Dean Watts, of the Pennsylvania College School of Agriculture.

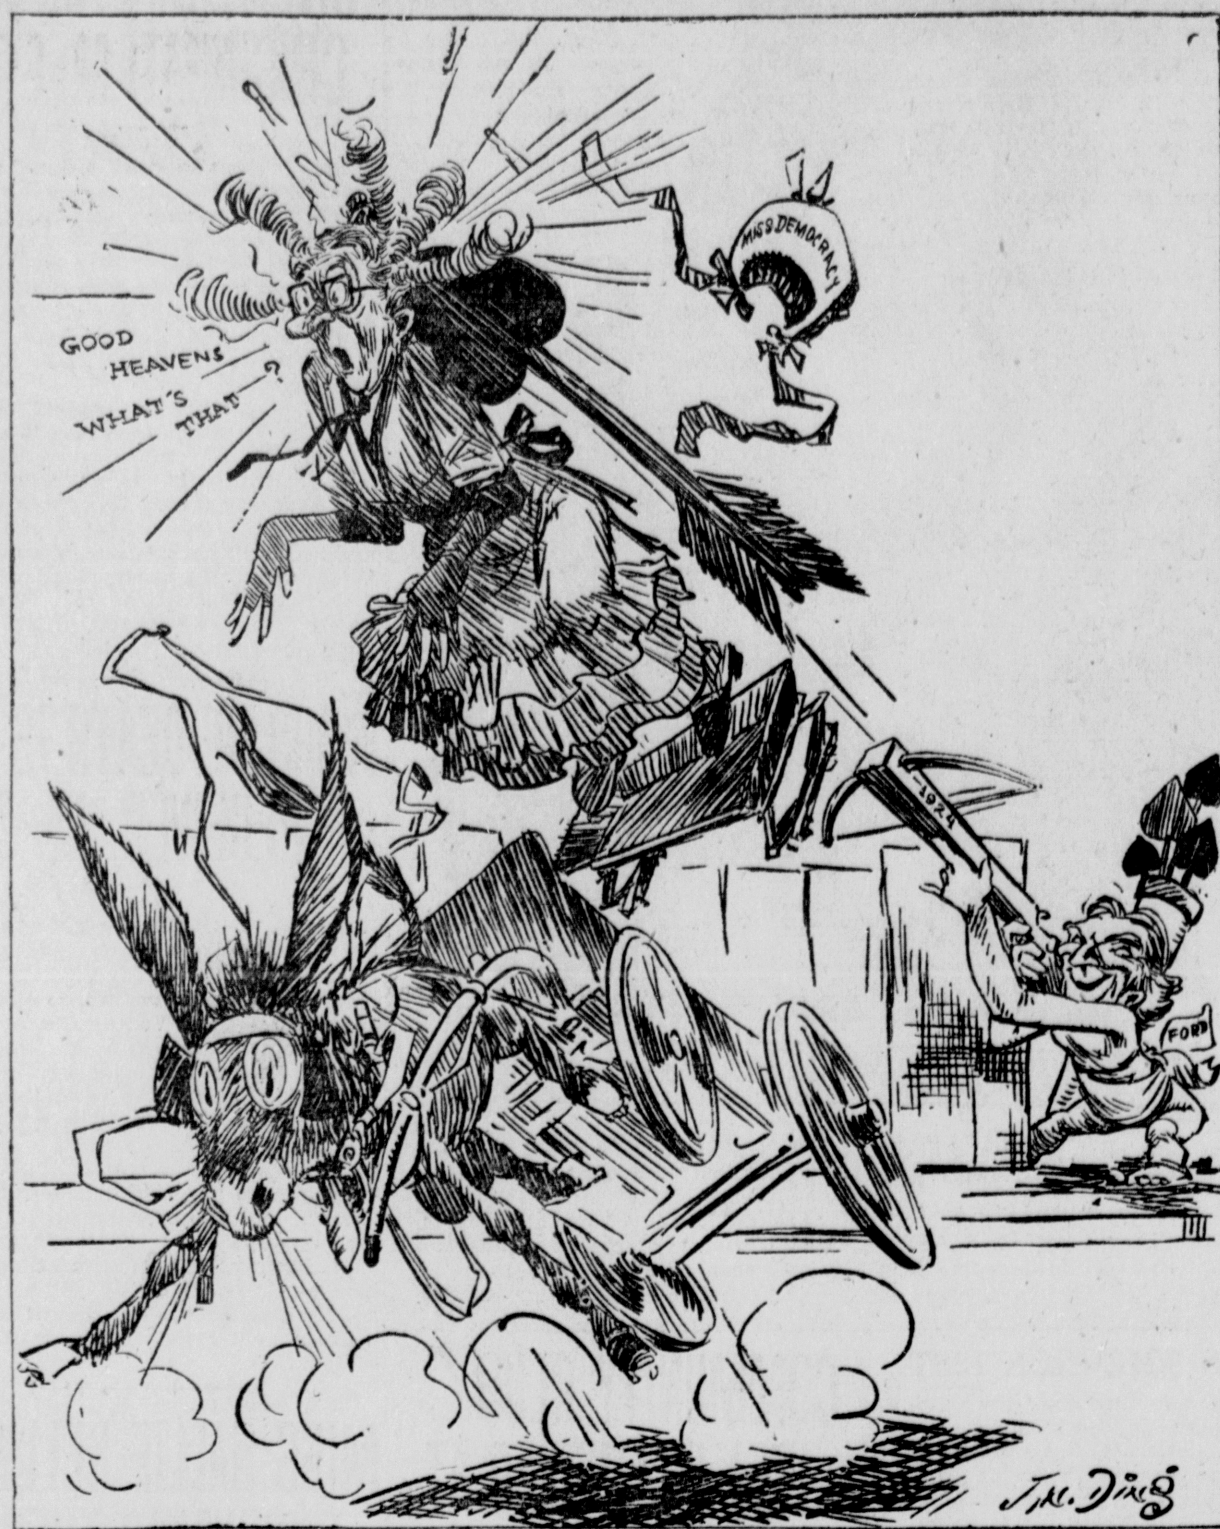

He says that the Agricultural School was forced to refuse 1000 applicants for admission in 1922. The dean adds, no doubt basing his opinion, at least in part, on these figures, that there is manifested a constantly growing interest in the "back-to-the-farm" movement.

We who live in the cities have been aroused to an unaccustomed interest in the farmer by a tardy realization of what might happen to us if he gave up in disgust. Our country has been endowed so richly that food scarcity seemed always a remote and almost impossible bugaboo, until the war and Europe's necessities put us on short rations. Since then we have read many grisly accounts of famine in the East and its European borderland, in countries normally flowing with milk and honey, and reflection on home conditions becomes plain prudence.

The American farmer faces a double problem of production and distribution. The first part is the more difficult to solve, because of labor shortage and the high cost of mechanical substitutes for strong arms. The general application of the co-operative marketing principle seems to offer relief from present waste of farm products. It is the farm-help problem that causes economists to throw up their hands and the farmer his job.

The most satisfactory and permanent solution of the manpower problem would be by an extension and multiplication of this "back-to-the-farm" movement, this resolve to leave the crowded city or the squalid industrial town, to exchange the time clock for the sun and an ordered job and weekly pay envelope for hard but healthy work plus independence.

LOOKS AS IF WE WERE GOING TO HAVE TO TAKE THIS THING SERIOUSLY

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

The appropriation year for the O. S. and S. O. Home, beginning February 15, arrangements have been begun for the plans for the new armory and recreation hall to be erected at the Home the coming season.

The coal shovelers employed on the coal dock in the Pan Handle yards last night quit work. They were obliged to work away up on the dock where the wind and weather had full sweep at them and they claimed the work was too hard for the money. Their places were filled with difficulty.

One of the worst days of the winter, from the weather standpoint, came on yesterday. Rain, sleet and snow held high carnival all day long. Even the town clock on the Court House which has never faltered in its duty through the months it has been marking the hours for the city joined in the general stand still of the community. The hands had frozen up good and tight.

There were no less than about five different entertainments down for this place last night, but some pulled off.—Bellbrook Items.

THE BACK OF THE NECK

Sometimes I am so cross with the women who pay too much attention to the fronts of themselves and too little to their backs! This is one of the cross moods. It started by seeing a young girl get out of a taxi, her face showing the result of an hour's concentrated effort at beauty, and her back—well, the bad result of four seconds. Her hair, so becoming in front, dragged down her neck behind, her dress wasn't properly fastened.

tened, her skirt hung wrong when seen from the back and the heels of her otherwise well polished shoes, ran over and should have been sent to a shoemaker for repair.

It's hard to look very nice and neat in the back if you haven't a long mirror to stand before. But it's not impossible. For one thing, all dresses should fasten before or at the side, unless you're an obliging family or a lady's maid to make the hooks and snaps meet as they should, or unless you can reach easily around yourself!

SAYRE & HEMPHILL

Collars should be made to form a becoming line in back and to stay in place. Shoes should be polished when off the feet so they'll look well from all sides and should be sent to the shoemakers often to keep the heels straight. Stockings should never be put on without examination for a weak spot or a hole at the heel or up the back of the calf.

Hair must be seen from all sides when it is dressed. For this you need no more than your hand mirror and the mirror above your dressing table. It's easy enough to arrange it around the face but to make it look pretty in back is what takes thought and practice.

M. A. T.—I do not think that an application of witch hazel would do much toward cleansing the skin of black heads if you wish such a formula. I will mail you on receipt of a s. a. c. in using peroxide to bleach the hair on the arms, wash and dry the hair and then moisten it with the peroxide. Give several applications at a time. In using oil for the hair it should only go on the scalp and in such cases the hair is separated into numerous strands and then only a very small amount will be needed to go over the whole head. An easy way to do this is to massage a few drops of oil into the part between each strand of hair. This may be done with the finger tips so that none of the oil will get through the hair itself. Vaseline or olive oil will do for this.

WOMEN GIVE OUT

Housework is hard enough when healthy. Every Xenia woman who is having backache, blue and nervous spells, dizzy headaches and kidney or bladder troubles, should be glad to heed this Xenia experience:

Mrs. Woodrow C. Warner, 225 E. Third St., says: "Several years ago I was in misery with pains that seized me through my back. When I stooped to dust I got such terrible sharp stabs of pain through the small of my back I could hardly move at times. Mornings my back and shoulders felt as stiff as a board. I was tired and weak and became dizzy. I also had severe nervous spells. My kidneys were irregular in action and caused me considerable annoyance. Doan's Kidney Pills were highly recommended to me so I got some. Several boxes relieved me of the trouble; the pains in my back left and my kidneys became normal."

SPECULATORS IN LIFE...

There are two kinds of people, at least, in this world playing at the game of life—the workers, and the speculators.

Go where you will and you will find these two represented.

In business, in society, in sport—one who puts his heart into his work, believing that work alone brings its full reward; and the other merely looking on, watching for some short cut or some clever play of chance to edge out worth and toil.

And there are speculators in friendship as well.

The man or woman who sees nothing in the warmth of friendship, reaching toward it solely for its opportunity of selfish gain.

Life seems at times like a great many different many things, but one thing it is not—it is not a mere speculation.

I like most to think of life as a real man's or woman's job—something big to be looked into, studied, and solved as far as in us lies the ability.

So then, naturally, the speculator in life gets nothing from me but my most profound contempt.

It is true that we are all born into a very unequal world. But this isn't the fault of the world.

Beauty and opportunity present themselves on equal terms to all. The inability to appreciate on the part of unequal minds is where the trouble starts.

And so we get those who see bigness and greatness in the mere daisy or pansy, and those who would walk over them for a thousand years and not know that they were planted by the hand of God.

Speculators in 'life'—graspers for that which they have not earned, and have not a spark of desire in their make-up to rightfully earn—sappers of the life that belongs to others; No wonder that Christ drove this cult from the temple.

You will never know life in all its wonder and beauty and significance until you earn it.

FAMOUS AUTOS DEFEAT DAYTON MALEYS

CENTRAL HIGH TO MEET WILMINGTON THERE THURSDAY
WHILE EMERALDS WIN FROM FAMOUS FIVE

FAMOUS AUTOS WIN AGAIN.
By Wones.

The Famous Autos continued their winning streak at the expense of the Dayton Maileys, a team from the N. C. R. League, at the Central High Court Tuesday night, the locals winning handily by a 35 to 12 score. The Maileys substituted for the Red Wings which team was unable to come here Tuesday night.

The teams battled on even terms for the first five minutes and the contest had the earmarks of another tight game, but Barlow broke the ice with a neat ringer and Overhauser threw a long shot knotting the count. Mark broke the tie with a basket and Barlow got another one.

The Autos seemed to find themselves at this stage of the contest and quickly jumped into the lead never to be overtaken. Barlow and Mark made baskets in rapid succession and from then on the locals began to locate the hoop with amazing regularity.

The visitors found it difficult to get by Solowitz and Koehly and they had to resort to long shots most of which went wide. The locals had a good edge when the whistle proclaimed the end of the half, the score being 18 to 5 at the half-way mark.

The second half was a repetition of the first with the visitors fighting hard to stop the locals' scoring activities, but their best efforts could not prevent the Main Street lads from locating the net. The all around play of the locals was good to watch. Their goal shooting was of the top-notch brand and they uncovered a splendid passing game. Barlow and Mark were the shining lights this time, their goal shooting being very good, each caging the pill eight times. Koester got two and Solowitz and Koehly held down the guard positions in fine style. The game was unusually clean, only three personal fouls being called. The lineup and summary:

Famous (38) Maileys (11)

EMERALDS DEFEAT FAMOUS FIVE

The L. E. John Emeralds obtained sweet revenge in defeating the Famous Five by a 31 to 17 count in the preliminary game, a munny loop contest.

The first half was nip and tuck with neither team having the advantage but when the period ended the John athletes were holding the long end of a 13 to 12 count. In the second half, Yeakley and Davis hitting the net regularly, the Emeralds soon piled up a lead which spelled defeat for the Famous Gang.

The Famous outfit was somewhat off color in its basketshooting in this period. Yeakley, Skelly and Davis played best for the winners while Stephens, Derrick, Barnett and Owens were the luminaries of the losing team. Lineup and summary:

CENTRAL HIGH AND WILMINGTON

With a victory over London High to their credit, Coach Earl Burgner's Central High quintet will go into its game with Wilmington in the Clinton County metropolis Thursday night, with considerable more confidence and resolve than has characterized the play of the locals this season.

Several severe upsets disheartened the blue and white performers and the neat victory over the Madison County tossers here last week, did much to the aplomb of the Xenia basketballers. Captain Don Currie and his mates now have the old fighting spirit that makes them think they can mow all comers down in the remaining games on the local schedule and this is the sort of spirit that Coach Burgner is banking on to return a victory in the Thursday night melee.

Both Xenia and Wilmington have bowed to the crack McClain High team of Greenfield this season, which puts Thursday night's competitors on nearly equal terms. Fans are expecting one of the best games of the season when these old rivals get together. There will be no Central High game staged here this week.

PRESTO-O-LITES AGAIN ON TOP

In the semi-windup of the three game court card at the Central High gym Tuesday night, the Presto-o-lite girls of Dayton defeated the McGregor Girls of Dayton, playing under boys' rules, by the score of 8 to 4. The game was interesting to watch and the girls game under boys rules is rapidly gaining in favor here. The lineup and summary:

CEDARVILLE HIGH WINS TWO

Cedarville High School basketball teams won two games at Cedarville Friday night, the Cedarville boys' first team coming from behind in the second half of the game with Yellow Springs and winning 19 to 17. The first half had ended 9 to 1 in favor of Yellow Springs. Bates strred for Cedarville, making 13 points. In a preliminary game the Cedarville High girls defeated the Yellow Springs High girls 19 to 16 in a closely fought game. Cedarville and Jamestown will mingle on the Cedarville court Friday evening.

MAKE PREPARATIONS FOR MUSIC MEMORY CONTEST IN SCHOOLS

The public school music division of the State Department of Public Instruction is promoting a state-wide music memory contest, beginning February 1 and closing April 28. The object is to increase the knowledge and love of good music to show that the scope of community music goes beyond community singing, and to make the contest a state-wide movement to obtain co-operation from a larger number of music interests.

Miss Harriet McCarty is the chairman of the Greene County committee composed of city and county superintendents of schools and their supervisors of music. It is necessary that the committee enlist the co-operation of musicians, public spirited citizens, and local organizations such as the various men's and women's clubs, churches and motion picture houses. These may assist by furnishing music or by donating prizes to the winners in the contest.

In the Xenia public schools grades five and six and the two junior high schools will enter the contest. It will be announced later to what extent the rural schools will take part.

There are to be twenty compositions in the list for rural elementary schools, the same twenty plus ten more in the list of city elementary schools, and if any High Schools enter the contest their list will contain the thirty in the list for the city elementary schools plus ten more.

In the Xenia schools a preliminary contest will be held during the week of April 2, to determine the five standing highest in the four grade buildings and in the two junior high schools. This will compose a group of thirty pupils to enter the county contest—three from the rural elementary schools, three from the fifth, sixth and seventh and eighth grades in the city schools, and three from all high schools. These nine will enter the state contest held in Columbus, April 28. Individual and team prizes will be offered by the state to the winners of the state contest.

At each contest part of each selection must be played. They shall be judged on the basis of ten points for each selection. Five for recognizing the composition, three for naming the composer, one for telling his nationality, and one for correct spelling and punctuation.

The selections are to be presented by use of records, orchestras, singing, and by individual performers.

No definite arrangements have been made about prizes for the winners, but it is thought a first prize may be awarded to the one making the highest score in the fifth grades, to the one doing the same in the sixth grade and to the one making the highest score in each of the Junior High Schools. Also it is thought a first, second and third prize will be awarded to the three winners from the city schools in the county contest. These three will be the ones to go to Columbus, to enter the state contest.

"AERIAL DAREDEVIL" OF HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES ADMITS "COUNTRY FELLER" BEAT HIS TIME WITH GIRL

Washington, February 13.—He is a "country feller"—a week ender—this hated rival who has cast "Lonesome Manuel" Herrick, the cavalier congressman from Oklahoma, into a new wreckage of matrimonial discord.

The "aerial daredevil" of the house admitted as much today, when he announced Miss Nettie Morrison, of Washington, who he has wooed for many months, had advised him "to be packin' away."

"His bride I'll never be," quoth Miss Nettie.

"Tis well," said Herrick to newspaper men.

"I've trimmed my sails and have headed for another bay. But there will be a gulf or ocean this time. I am bound for deep, blue water after big fish."

Herrick had been "a-goin'" with the lady about four months. Four times a week he had called, but he was along in the Tuesdays and Wednesdays.

Herrick employed a detective to find what hated rival had come sparkin' week ends. The detective found he was a rural suitor whose people Miss Nettie visited "a-Sundays."

"She was a good girl," "Lonesome Manuel" confessed sorrowfully. "But I want to add here's one who would be ashamed of his wife when he gets her."

Miss Morrison, who is from Idaho, said she would not marry her suitor, even if he were president of the United States.

"He treated me like a lady, and he's a nice man," said Miss Nettie. "but—well you know it's not riches and position alone I'm looking for."

A PURITAN WIFE

By Jane Phelps

CHAPTER VIII

Ann was angry with Grace for her levity. She could see nothing funny in the situation.

She was mortified that Grace should have been a witness to Dick's failing which she had kept from even Ned and Bessie. She was worried, almost ill, because of what Dick had done. But Dick, laughingly said:

"Ann is making a fuss about nothing. Grace. Ann wasn't brought up right."

She can't see the funny side of things like you can," Ann flushed crimson. No one ever before had accused her of a lack of humor. But there was nothing humorous in Dick's drinking, in losing his memory as a result.

"Wives never can!" Grace replied. "It takes a good chum to see the funny side of things. Come on now and take me home. Ned will be fussing about me."

Ann saw them go without a word. She had no wish to object her heart was too heavy.

Dick was almost himself now. The drive home, the time that had elapsed since he drank had sobered him, cleared his brain. But he had forgotten again—because he drank.

"He'll forget once too often," Ann said as she sat alone. "Something dreadful will happen if he doesn't stop drinking."

An hour later Dick returned, bringing some sugar and butter Bessie had given him.

"You should have heard Grace telling them how we'd have to go hungry if they didn't help us out. She was ridiculously funny. I laughed myself almost sick at her antics."

Ann knew it would do no good to refer to his drinking in the mood he was now in.

He would think it fault finding. So she put the butter and sugar away, simply remarking that it was good of Bessie to send them.

"DO GET UP, ANN! Don't look so solemn. You should have a little of Grace's get up and get. There's a girl for you! Always full of life and fun."

"I'm tired tonight, Dick. My head aches."

"I'm sorry, dear. I didn't know you weren't well. Forgive an old stupid husband, won't you?"

He was her old loving Dick again petting her, waiting upon her. No wonder she could hold nothing against him.

But what Dick said rankled. He wanted her to be like Grace Edmunds.

A selfish conscienceless girl, who had thought for no one but herself. A butterfly whom he only saw dressed up and gaily flitting about. Could he really admire Grace so much? Could he not see through her?

Ned had put in a telephone. Grace had declared they must have one, that she felt shut out from the world without one.

She tried to talk Dick into putting one in also, saying they could call each other, make plans to do things so much easier than riding back and forth.

Good naturedly Dick said it was "up to Ann," and Ann vetoed it.

"We can't really afford it, Grace. We really have no use for it except to call Ned and Bessie, and Dick is putting in a wind brake, and we want to plant some lemon trees this year in that plot adjoining the orange grove."

"Let the old wind-brake go and get a telephone," Grace urged laughing. "You only live once, and what is life without a phone?" But Ann wouldn't consent, and Dick would not go against her wishes.

"I'm never in the house only to eat and sleep and Ann would be the only one to use it, so she must decide," he said when with a pout Grace appealed to him.

Ann never dreamed how she would regret not installing a telephone. She was economical, had been brought up to be, and was also anxious for Dick to get on.

He worked very hard, and it was a joy to help him save for improvements to the ranch.

He had considerable land he had not been able to cultivate, was anxious to get young trees in. Every dollar counted, and a telephone seemed so unnecessary.

Ann had taken over the entire care of his accounts, kept books as faithfully as if she were in an office, so Dick said.

She knew what a good crop meant, what it would bring, and relieve Dick of all responsibility concerning the billings and so on.

"It's too much for you, Ann," Dick had said when she proposed doing it. He had spent many of his evenings working when they were first married, bending over his books when so tired from out door work that he often fell asleep in his chair.

But the advent of Grace Edmunds had made their quiet evening a thing of the past. There was scarcely a night when she hadn't some thing planned to prevent.
